"The ever-increasing use of information technology by government departments for tax compliances and regulatory proceedings lays special emphasis on avoiding physical contact. However, the digitisation has challenged businesses in many ways. In this scenario, a platform of industry experts that can quickly and holistically understand the difficulties and provide a cost-effective solution will be a boon to the businesses and the economy."

S K Singh

Formerly Principal Chief Commissioner of Income Tax
Principal Advisor, Mazars Advisory Solutions

"Having advisors and mentors on board is the most effective way to amplify one's own business potential. The outcome of businesses engaging with mentors is the formulation of a sound growth strategy. It is immensely beneficial for entrepreneurs to seek external help to organise and multiply their business."
